EVANSVILLE, Ind. – November 18, 2021 – Berry Global Group, Inc. (NYSE:BERY), a leading supplier of sustainable packaging solutions for consumer goods and industrial products, today reported its fourth quarter and fiscal year 2021 results, referred to in the following as the September 2021 quarter and fiscal 2021.

Berry's Chairman and CEO Tom Salmon said, "The strong performance throughout this fiscal year led to a net sales record of $13.9 billon along with 4% organic volume growth. Adjusted earnings per share was up 20% versus the prior year coming in at a fiscal year record of $5.80 per share along with operating EBITDA of $2.2 billion. All of these strong financial metrics were delivered despite a challenging backdrop of significant cost inflation along with labor and supply chain challenges. My deepest thanks go to our 47,000 employees who delivered these terrific results in what was a challenging and unpredictable fiscal year. We believe that continued execution of growing organic volumes, leading the way in sustainability and innovative packaging while maintaining our leverage in the range of 3.0 to 3.9 times, on a go-forward basis, will deliver significant shareholder value.

"We continue to invest in each of our businesses to build and maintain our world-class, low-cost, manufacturing base, with an emphasis on key growth markets and regions and continue to see incremental opportunity to invest organically in support of our unwavering commitment to global growth. The continued positive momentum from our investments in areas such as health and wellness, e-commerce, and food safety while driving more sustainable packaging, provide us the path to realize long-term consistent volume and earnings growth just as we delivered over the last several years."

September 2021 Quarter Results

Consolidated Overview

The net sales growth of 22% is primarily attributed to increased selling prices of $716 million due to the pass through of inflation partially offset by prior quarter divestiture sales of $60 million. When compared to the strong prior year volumes, organic volumes were down 1% in the quarter primarily due to the negative impact from supply chain and labor challenges.

The operating income decrease is primarily attributed to a $66 million unfavorable impact from price cost spread, prior year divestiture operating income of $7 million partially offset by a decline in business integration expenses and a decrease in selling, general, and administrative expense.

Consumer Packaging - International

The net sales growth of 12% is primarily attributed to increased selling prices of $109 million due to the pass through of inflation.

The operating income increase is primarily attributed to a decline in business integration expenses and other non-cash charges along with a decrease in selling, general, and administrative expense, partially offset by a $15 million negative impact from price cost spread.

Consumer Packaging - North America

Cash Flow and Balance Sheet

Our cash flow from operating activities increased to $1.58 billion for the fiscal year ended September 2021 compared to $1.53 billion in the prior year primarily attributed to the growth in operating EBITDA and timing of working capital items partially offsetting with higher working capital from inflation. The Company's free cash flow for the fiscal year ended October 2, 2021, was $904 million.

Our total debt less cash and cash equivalents (or "net debt") at the end of fiscal 2021 quarter was $8,369 million. Adjusted EBITDA for fiscal 2021 was $2,194 million.

Fiscal Year 2022 Guidance

For fiscal year 2022 Berry expects adjusted earnings per share (EPS) to be $7.20 - $7.70, which is based on 141 million shares outstanding, an expected tax rate of 25% and an operating EBITDA range of $2.25 - $2.35 billion. Depreciation is expected to be $590 million and amortization from intangibles, which will be added back to adjusted EPS, is expected to be $275 million. Additionally we are targeting 2% organic volume growth for fiscal 2022, as this guidance builds on our last two years of strong performance and is supported by our robust and growing pipeline, increased level of capital expenditures, and the positive trends and momentum we are seeing in each of our businesses. While we remain committed to recovering the significant cost inflation we witnessed in fiscal 2021, we do anticipate, from both an earnings and volume perspective, a softer first half of the fiscal year with a stronger second half on both recovery of inflation and volume comparisons versus prior year. We are targeting free cash flow of $900 million – $1.0 billion with includes cash flow from operations of $1.7 -$1.8 billion partially offset by capital expenditures of $800 million. We intend to use our strong, dependable, and consistent free cash flow primarily to invest around driving sustainable long-term organic growth, optimizing our portfolio and enhancing our organic growth potential through strategic acquisitions and divestitures, staying in our leverage range, and opportunistically repurchasing shares.

(1) Represents operating EBITDA related to divestments within the last twelve months and extra days in the prior fiscal year.
(2) Amortization excludes non-cash amortization from the 2006 private sale of $6 million, $6 million, $24 million and $25 million, for the September 2021 quarter, September 2020 quarter, fiscal year ended October 2, 2021, and fiscal year ended September 26, 2020, respectively.

- (3) Represents an adjustment for a $19 million inventory step-up charge related to the RPC acquisition in the prior fiscal year.

 (4) During the current and prior fiscal years, the Company obtained certain tax benefits of $30 million and $20 million, respectively, deemed as non-comparable.

 (5) Amortization of intangibles from acquisition will be added back for fiscal year 2022 and going forward to better align our calculation of adjusted EPS with peers.
- (6) Supplemental financial measures that are not required by, or presented in accordance with, accounting principles generally accepted in the United States ("GAAP"). These non-GAAP financial measures should not be considered as alternatives to operating or net income or cash flows from operating activities, in each case determined in accordance with GAAP. Organic sales growth excludes the impact of currency translation effects and acquisitions. These non-GAAP financial measures may be calculated differently by other companies, including other companies in our industry, limiting their usefulness as comparative measures. Berry's management believes that adjusted net income and other non-GAAP financial measures are useful to our investors because they allow for a better period-over-period comparison of operating results by removing the impact of items that, in management's view, do not reflect our core operating performance.

We define "free cash flow" as cash flow from operating activities less additions to property, plant, and equipment. We believe free cash flow is useful to an investor in evaluating our liquidity because free cash flow and similar measures are widely used by investors, securities analysts, and other interested parties in our industry to measure a company's liquidity. We also believe free cash flow is useful to an investor in evaluating our liquidity as it can assist in assessing a company's ability to fund its growth through its generation of cash.

Adjusted EBITDA is used by our lenders for debt covenant compliance purposes. We also use Adjusted EBITDA and Operating EBITDA among other measures to evaluate management performance and in determining performance-based compensation. Adjusted EBITDA and Operating EBITDA and similar measures are widely used by investors, securities analysts, and other interested parties in our industry to measure a company's performance. We also believe EBITDA and Adjusted net income are useful to an investor in evaluating our performance without regard to revenue and expense recognition, which can vary depending upon accounting methods.
